Service overview

Secure buy-in and shape your roadmap with evidence of genuine, tangible impact in your business context.

Cloud Direct's Data Intelligence MVP accelerates your adoption of Microsoft Fabric by doing just that. We identify a high-value business use case, design a tailored solution, configure and deploy Microsoft Fabric, and produce actionable insights with a working Fabric Data Agent. This engagement validates your feasibility, demonstrates real impact, and establishes a scalable foundation.

Who is this service for?

Businesses that want a rapid, low-risk validation of Microsoft Fabric's business value and scalability to deliver both immediate impact and a foundation for long-term analytics and AI success.

Addressing your challenges

No clear roadmap to prove return on your data platform investment

Current analytics workflows are fragmented, slow, and misaligned

There's uncertainty around feasibility, readiness, and long-term scalability

Expertise in action

This focussed, six-week engagement delivers discovery, design, deployment, insights, and a working Fabric Data Agent aligned to your specific use case.

What we deliver

- Discovery of your high-impact use case and benchmarking against existing processes
- Stakeholder working sessions, alignment reviews, and progress playbacks
- Tailored technical design, configuration, and deployment of Microsoft Fabric
- Fabric Data Agent configured for insight automation
- Iterative refinement of modelling and outputs, followed by impact assessments
